Flexible Benefit Service Corporation Now Offers Combined Insurance Supplemental Plans

New custom packages for small groups available exclusively from Flex

ROSEMONT, Ill. (August 9, 2012) – Flexible Benefit Service Corporation (Flex) announced today the addition of Combined Insurance and their range of supplemental accident, disability, health and life insurance products. Available exclusively through the Flex General Agency, health insurance producers can distribute a custom package of Combined Insurance product offerings that are not normally available to the small group market, including Accident Protector, Cancer Protector and Health Protector.

This package of Combined Insurance products is a great fit for use with high-deductible health plans (HDHPs). These supplemental products can offset the out-of-pocket costs associated with increasingly popular HDHPs. In fact, according to America's Health Insurance Plans \(AHIP\) 59 percent of employer-based plans currently include HDHPs in their benefit offerings.

“Flex is excited to offer our producers the opportunity to sell Combined Insurance,” said President of Flex, John DiVito. “As HDHPs continue to become the norm, these products can assist in bridging the gap for consumers.”

Health insurance producers are invited to learn more about this exclusive product offering at the upcoming Combined Insurance Webinar hosted by Flex on August 22, 2012 at 10 AM Central. For more information about Flex, visit www.flexiblebenefit.com or call 888-353-9178.
